The Adventures of Lou and Fin

Lou hopped back on the picnic table. He kicked his legs and sprang off high.

Fin landed with a thud on the ground.

Fin howled with laughter.

"Maybe it only works on Tuesdays," Fin said. "I wish I was smart like you," Lou shrugged.

"Let's share this bone now," Fin said, "I'll chop it in half."

Lou and Fin chomped on the bone together in the park, wagging their tails.

Fluency Passage

Lou sat in the yard, wagging his tail. His best friend, Fin, trotted over.

"Lou, did you know if you eat a shrimp, you can spring like a rabbit?"

Fin said. Lou and Fin raced to the shops. Lou had his thrift money. They bought some shrimp and went to the park.

"And," Fin said before they ate the shrimp, "if you tie string to your tail, you'll be extra strong."

"Wow!" Lou wagged his tail faster. Quickly, he tied some string tight around his tail. "I'm ready!"

Lou gobbled up the shrimp. Then, he jumped onto the picnic table. Lou sprang high into the air. He wiggled his tail, hoping he would fly!

But Lou landed on the ground with a throb in his paw.

Fin laughed at his friend with a glint in his eye. "Maybe you need to sprint three times in a circle before you jump?"

"Great idea, Fin!" Lou smiled with his tongue out. Lou spun in three circles. He felt dizzy. "Now kick your legs!" Fin giggled.
