A Card for Grandma
It was a cold morning so my sister and I couldn't play in the backyard. Inside was such a bore. There was a harsh wind blowing in from the north, and it seemed like it was going to storm. The dog Archie barked loudly.
"Mom, can we let Archie in?" I begged. "It's too cold for him!"
"Ok, fine," Mom agreed. "I'm going to the market now. Can you two make a card for Grandma's party tonight?"
This sounded fun and better than doing chores! My sister and I took charge of designing an amazing card.
"Let's decorate it with animals," I suggested. My sister drew a horse, and I sketched a turtle.
"Why don't I make a farm with lots of animals?" My sister was very creative. She turned the card into a book with a farmland and barnyard filled with animals.
"That looks great!" I said. "Where should my turtle go?"
"We can draw a garden with a pond for the turtle." My sister helped me draw lots of nice flowers.
The card looked amazing, and mom was impressed when she got back from the market. It was perfect for Grandma's birthday!

A Day Out
Jesse was eagerly looking forward to the weekend because he was going to have a day out with his mom. They had spent the week sorting out some activities to do and making an itinerary for the day.	15 30 41
In the morning, Jesse and his mom went to the shore to watch the boats on the ocean. The water looked dark until the sun came out from a cloud. Jesse marveled at how bright the water became.	55 69 79
After a super yummy morning tea at a market store, Jesse and his mom drove north to a farm with a barnyard filled with animals. Here, Jesse got to ride a horse around the farmland. When the ride was finished, his mom showed him the garden where there was a pond with turtles swimming.	93 106 120 132 133
The afternoon was lots of fun. Jesse and his mom went to the ballpark to play some sport with his friends. They kicked a ball towards a large target and kept score to see who got the most. Jesse had the best day and was worn out by nighttime!	147 161 176 182
