ANSWERS
1. Run fast.	2. Carnivore, meat-eating dinosaur.	3. The tiny arms had sharp claws, which could inflict mortal wounds to prey.
4. As apex predators, they likely needed to blend in with the environment so that they ambush their prey. They could have been green, gray, and brown, but we do not know, and they could have been more colourful, like birds.	5. Yes, T-Rex walked on two legs.	6. Dinosaurs were reptiles. Although they are sometimes called lizards, dinosaurs belong to a special group of reptiles.
7. Birds.	8. Between 50-60 teeth.	9. The teeth were banana-sized and had serrated edges. The teeth helped to rip through flesh and bones.
10. There are many ideas, including a massive asteroid impact and volcanic activity.	11. They lived during the end of the Cretaceous Period, about 65-66 million years ago.	12. Triceratops, Stegosaurus, Ankylosaurus, Edmontosaurus, Daspletosaurus, Gorgosaurus.
13. They sometimes grew a new tooth.	14. They lived in North America and Asia. Recently, a hip bone of a distant ancestor of the T-Rex was found in Australia.	15. Tyrannosaurus is Greek for "Tyrant Lizard," and "rex" means "king" in Latin. So, Tyrannosaurus rex was "King of the Tyrant Lizards."
