

WHOSE ANIMAL?

WHOSE ANIMAL?

FRENCH POSSESSIVE ADJECTIVES

French possessive adjectives

When we want to say that something belongs to someone, we use words like my, his, and their. French also has words like this - but while English only has one word for my, French has three different forms of the word.

The form that you use depends on whether the person that you have is masculine, feminine, singular or plural.

To determine which form to use, you can refer to this chart. Note that for some words (our, your plural, their) there are only two forms - singular and plural.

	masculine (OR starts with a vowel or an H)	feminine	plural
my	mon	ma	mes
your (tu form)	ton	ta	tes
his/her	son	sa	ses
			nos
			vos
			leurs
