READ THE PASSAGE

Jake and Ella were skipping stones by the lake. Jake picked up a big, flat rock. It was smooth and shiny.

"Watch this one," he said, giving it a strong toss. It went flying, but instead of skipping across the water, it landed with a huge splat! The water went splashing everywhere!

Ella and Jake laughed. Then, they heard a strange crackling sound. Curious, they followed it to an old tree by the water. Its trunk had a deep split down the middle. There were splinters of wood playing out.

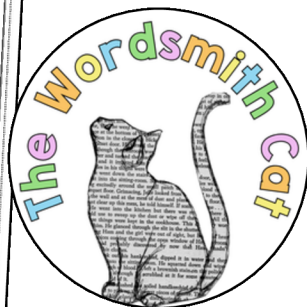

Something caught Ella's eye inside the split trunk.

"Look!" She said, reaching in carefully. She pulled out a small, golden shell necklace. It sparkled in the sunlight.

"Wow, it's splendid!" Jake gasped. They couldn't believe their luck. They left it in the tree trunk as a magical, hidden treasure. It would be their secret ready to surprise another adventurer!

Sam the seal lives at the beach. Eddie the eagle lives in a tall tree overlooking the ocean. They like to play with their friends, Finn the fish and Billy the bird.

"Let's play hide and seek," Sam said one morning when the sun was shining.

"That's fun!" Eddie said, "I am going to start counting."

So, Sam and Finn went on one team, and Eddie and Billy on the other team. The friends played all morning. Finn was the best at hiding under rocks in the water. They all had lots of fun.

"I'm so hungry now," said Billy.

"Let's have a picnic and eat lunch together," Finn said. They all enjoyed a picnic on the beach shoreline.
