DESTINATION SYDNEY AUSTRALIA

WHAT DO WHEN IN SYDNEY

1. Visit the Sydney Opera House and surrounding Bennelong Point. Sydney Opera House Despite its name, the Sydney Opera House is comprised of multiple venues for performances of all types. Be sure to catch one at Australia's most recognizable landmarks!
2. Sydney Harbour Bridge - Nicknamed "The Coathanger", the Sydney Harbour Bridge isn't just for ticking off your Sydney sightseeing checklist. You can climb it too! Book early to do a Bridge Climb tour at sunset.
3. Taronga Zoo The not-for-profit Taronga Zoo is one of Sydney's top attractions, with barless enclosures, regular talks, and stunning views of the harbor if, you can take your eyes off the animals!
4. The Rocks It doesn't sound like the most promising place for tours in Sydney, but Australia's first European settlement called "The Rocks" is named for its historic sandstone buildings.
5. Ride the iconic Manly Ferry - What is it? Locals use it every day on their commute to work but the Manly Ferry voyage is an impossibly beautiful treat.

SYDNEY'S ENVIRONMENT

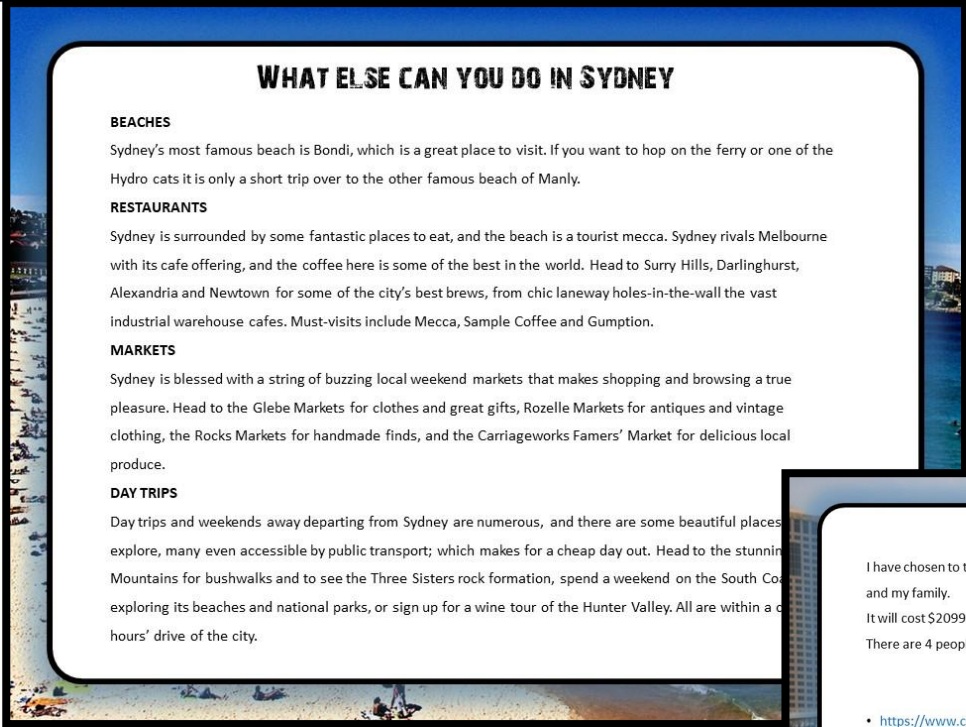

Sydney is the capital of the state of New South Wales and like any other capital city, it has many tall buildings and apartments. It is famous for its harbor side location and brags some of the most expensive real estate in the country. The Harbour is the starting point for the famous Sydney to Hobart yacht race where competitors race from the mainland of Australia to the smaller island state of Tasmania.

Sydney has many beautiful parks set aside as part of the urban landscape one of the most popular is Hyde Park, in the centre of the city where many celebrations are held.

Sydney is surrounded by water, and the sparkly azure waters of Sydney Harbour are some of the most picture-perfect. With more than 200km of harbour foreshore, it's dotted with pretty harbour islands, and is the setting for a plethora of events including boat races and, of course, Sydney's New Year's Eve fireworks display.

Covering more than 12,000 square kilometres, and with more than 500 neighborhoods, each with their own distinctive character, choosing which part of Sydney to live in can be overwhelming in the very best way. And with more residents born overseas than any other in Australia, Sydney is diverse, multicultural city, which makes it easy to meet new people, have new experiences, and find a place to call home.

WHAT ELSE CAN YOU DO IN SYDNEY

BEACHES

Sydney's most famous beach is Bondi, which is a great place to visit. If you want to hop on the ferry or one of the Hydro cats it is only a short trip over to the other famous beach of Manly.

RESTAURANTS

Sydney is surrounded by some fantastic places to eat, and the beach is a tourist mecca. Sydney rivals Melbourne with its cafe offering, and the coffee here is some of the best in the world. Head to Surry Hills, Darlinghurst, Alexandria and Newtown for some of the city's best brews, from chic laneway holes-in-the-wall the vast industrial warehouse cafes. Must-visits include Mecca, Sample Coffee and Gumption.

MARKETS

Sydney is blessed with a string of buzzing local weekend markets that makes shopping and browsing a true pleasure. Head to the Glebe Markets for clothes and great gifts, Rozelle Markets for antiques and vintage clothing, the Rocks Markets for handmade finds, and the Carriageworks Farmers' Market for delicious local produce.

DAY TRIPS

Day trips and weekends away departing from Sydney are numerous, and there are some beautiful places to explore, many even accessible by public transport; which makes for a cheap day out. Head to the stunning Blue Mountains for bushwalks and to see the Three Sisters rock formation, spend a weekend on the South Coast exploring its beaches and national parks, or sign up for a wine tour of the Hunter Valley. All are within a couple of hours' drive of the city.

I have chosen to travel with my family.
It will cost $2099
