

POINT OF VIEW in a Narrative

Engaging and simple activity for
point of view

MIDDLE SCHOOL

INTERACTIVE
NOTEBOOK

PRACTICE ACTIVITY

INTERACTIVE NOTEBOOK NOTES

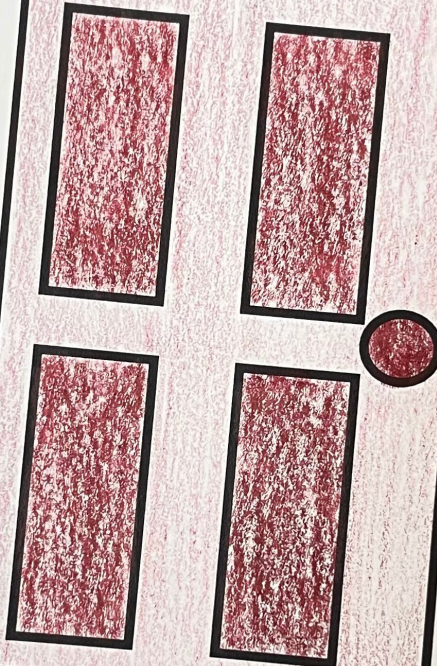

PASTE DEFINITIONS OR HAVE STUDENTS WRITE

- The narrator character story; usually the main character or a character close to the character narrates
- Personae such as "me" are
- Limited perspective

- The narrator a character story
- Narrator the and one person

POINT OF VIEW

First Person

Third Person

Third Person Limited

Third Person Omniscient

INTERACTIVE NOTES

Paste the notes or have students write

POINT OF VIEW

- The narrator is a character in the story; usually it is the main character or a character close to the main character who narrates.
- Personal pronouns, such as, "I" and "me" are used.
- Limited to own perspective

Third Person

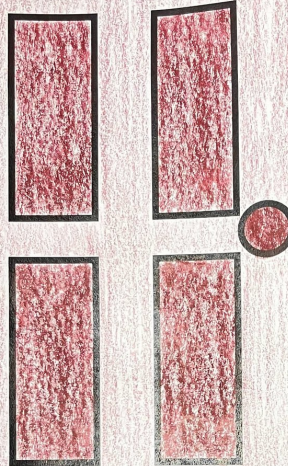

Third Person Limited

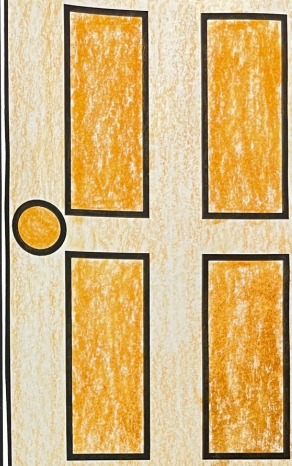

POINT OF VIEW

First Person

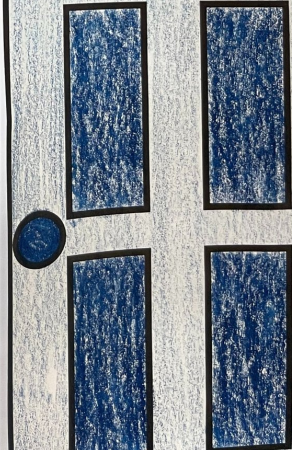

Third Person

Third Person Limited

Third Person Omniscient

annotated
ELA

Name _____

POINT OF VIEW

Directions: Review the definitions of point of view. Then read the examples and determine which point of view the example is written.

FIRST PERSON

- The narrator is a character in the story; usually it is the main character or a character close to the main character who narrates.
- Personal pronouns, such as, "I" and "me" are used.
- Limited to own perspective

THIRD PERSON

- The narrator is not a character in the story.
- Narrates about the main characters.
- Third person pronouns, such as "he" and "she" are used.

THIRD PERSON LIMITED

- The narrator is not a character in the story.
- Narrator can share thoughts, feelings, and actions about one character, but remains in third person.

THIRD PERSON OMNISCIENT

- Narrator is not a character in the story.
- Narrator can share thoughts, feelings, and actions of ALL characters.
- Narrator can travel through time.
- Narrator can share personal opinions as well as opinions of all characters.

I knew I had to go in, but I was frozen. Where would I sit? Who would sit with me? One foot in front of the other, keep moving I repeated this over and over as I made my way to the nearest lunch table.

Hayden was breathless as she ran in the house with the envelope; she could not contain her excitement as she shouted to her parents. It was bittersweet for her parents, and they hoped their joy would overshadow their Anton could not tell if his best friend was genuine in that moment. All Anton knew was that he had to make the decision to trust him.

Sam rushed to the train. She could not be late to this interview.

PRACTICE

Students will evaluate examples and identify the correct point of view

WHICH POINT OF VIEW?

WHICH POINT OF VIEW?

WHICH POINT OF VIEW?

WHICH POINT OF VIEW?

Point of View

first person

The narrator is a character in the story; usually it is the main character or a character close to the main character who narrates.

Limited to own perspective.

Personal pronouns, such as, "I" and "me" are used.

© AnnotatedELA 2021 -2022

Point of View

third person omniscient

Narrator is not a character in the story.

Narrator can share thoughts, feelings, and actions of ALL characters.

Narrator can travel through time.

Narrator can share personal opinions as well as opinions of all characters.

PRESENTATION OF NOTES INCLUDED