While working on research for his doctorate in history, your cousin found a diary entry that led him to believe that there is a hidden box of jewels belonging to Marie Antoinette hidden on the grounds of Versailles. He was able to locate the box - but it is locked with several locks! The box itself is a historical artifact, and he does not want to destroy it. The only solution is to unlock the locks. Luckily, the diary entry also left some clues as to how to unlock them. Can you help your cousin by finding the codes to unlock the locks?

Mardi Gras

You have received a box of beads for the Mardi Gras celebration. But the person who sent you the beads likes to play jokes, and they've locked the beads in the box using multiple locks! In order to open the box and get your beads, you'll have to figure out the combinations for the locks. Look closely at the image below to find your clues and see if you can find the combinations before time's up!

King's Cake

On the King's Cake page, click on the cakes. Students are listening for the 8-letter lock.

Home page

The front page has an image of some mardi gras balloons. As you mouseover the image, there are 5 hidden clickable links. Whenever the little hand pops up, that's a link. These links will take them to the clues and information that will help them to solve the riddles that unlock the locks. Once they've unlocked all of the locks, they will see a screen with some beads as a prize. If you give out real beads, this can be an added incentive to the virtual ones.

The Cajuns

On the Cajuns page, clicking on the hands of the statue will open a google spreadsheet. Once students enter the name of the poem's author (Longfellow) they will see a link that has the other information they will need to answer the spreadsheet questions. The final answer is 894171, which will open the 6-digit lock.

Celebrations

On the Celebration page, clicking on the ashes on the foreheads will take students to pages that allow them to determine the dates of Ash Wednesday (and Mardi Gras). They are looking for the last date when Mardi Gras will happen on February 16 - 02/16/2010 - which will open the date lock.

11/01.

Home page

When students open the home page, they will see a calendar. Certain areas on the calendar are clickable links (the blue areas below). As they mouse over those spaces, the hand will appear to show them that it is clickable. Note that Google Chrome does not always show the hand! Either have your students use a different browser, or show them where to click.

They will also see a form with the spaces to enter the codes to unlock the locks. They should be careful to enter their answers exactly as requested (ALL CAPITALS) as the codes will not work otherwise.

topics included:

La Toussaint

Clicking on the flowers will take students to a video about the holiday. They are looking for the date of the holiday - November 1 - which will unlock the date lock (MM/DD) if entered in the correct format - 11/01.

Le Chandeleur

On the Chandeleur slide, clicking on the crepe you need to do a little bit of research to find the first document, a link will appear with the information. If the answers are correct, the final answer will be 514.

Des travaux de réfection de certaines des parties les plus anciennes du Mont Saint-Michel ont permis de découvrir une boîte enterrée pendant des années. On a trouvé la boîte dans la chapelle de Notre Dame Sous Terre - la partie la plus ancienne de l'abbaye. Beaucoup de personnes ont longtemps cru qu'il y avait une ancienne église construite sous cette chapelle - mais jusqu'au présent, il n'y a eu aucune preuve pour aider à trouver cette église. Le prieur du site espère que le coffret contient les plans laissés par un équipage qui avait fait des réparations des années plus tôt, avant d'être interrompu par les guerres mondiales. La boîte comporte plusieurs verrous, mais également un code qui vous aidera à déverrouiller les verrous. Pouvez-vous aider à déchiffrer les codes et à déverrouiller la boîte ?
