Science Fiction Escape Room

Read the story starter and get ready for a narrative writing adventure! Complete the puzzles and tasks on each page to continue writing the science fiction story.

All across the galaxy, bright lights dazzle across the space-cities and super-fast space tunnels connect the planets. It is the year 3125 and no one leaves home without their oxygen helmet, space gloves, and gravity boots.

On the edge of the universe is a small space station orbiting the colorful gas giant Calypos. Adventurous explorers and scientists live and work on this space station.

Among them is Dr. Elena Voss. She is a brilliant scientist who loves studying strange, ancient alien objects.

Narrative Writing Science Fiction Escape Room

A few weeks ago, Dr. Elena found some mysterious alien artifacts in the swirling clouds of Calypos. There were strange objects - some round, some square, some smooth, some rough.

All of these space relics gave clues to the world of Calypos. Elena loved putting together the pieces to understand more about life in the outer galaxy.

While examining them closely today, she noticed something incredible on one of the artifacts!

Following the directions on the map, Elena steered her spaceship through the dark, starry sky of the galaxy. 'Hmm, I think this is the place,' she said to Sparky, feeling a bit nervous.

She parked the spaceship on a small, rocky area next to Calypso. It was very dark so Elena kept the lights of the spaceship on to take a look around.

Immediately, something interesting caught Elena's attention.
