It's January, 1942. America is still reeling from the Pearl Harbor attack. Our intelligence agencies have been picking up chatter about another pending attack - this one might even be on the mainland! Unfortunately, some of the information we have is encoded and without the decryption pads to decode the information, we won't be able to stop the attack. We captured a Japanese agent who has the decryption codes, but he's locked them in a box with several locks and we can't get him to open the locks. Can you help figure out the combinations to open the locks and help us to avert the attack?
