Circle the words with the prefix "UN"

Once there was a little girl named Lily who loved everything that sparkled. One day, she received an unusual, mystery package. Excited, she began to unwrap it, hoping for something extraordinary. To her surprise, a magical creature popped out – a small, winged unicorn named Sparkle.

At first, Lily and Sparkle had lots of fun together, but as time passed, Lily noticed something strange. Sparkle seemed unhappy and somewhat unfriendly.

Lily realised that Sparkle was missing his enchanted homeland. Feeling a bit unlucky, Lily decided to unpack her backpack, hoping to find a solution.

Lily searched her backpack and discovered it was a portal to Sparkle's unreal realm! Despite the unfair challenges they faced, Lily and Sparkle went on an adventure to reunite Sparkle with his magical family.

Lily and Sparkle made it through the portal and went on an unreal journey together. Sparkle was so happy to be home and back with his family. But he missed Lily and her kindness. So whenever Lily was feeling unwell or sad, Sparkle would come and visit her to cheer her up.

What is a prefix?

A prefix is a word part that goes in front of a base word. A prefix cannot be a real word by itself.

A base word is sometimes called a root word. It is a word that exists without a prefix.

A prefix changes the meaning of a base word. A prefix does not change the spelling of a base word.

Prefixes and what they mean

Prefix	Most common meaning	Example word	Explanation
Re-	To do again	Replay	If you play something again, it is a replay .
Un-	The opposite of	Uncool	Something that is the opposite of cool can be called uncool .
