The Adventures of Lou and Fin

It was a sunny day, so Lou and his best friend Fin went to play at the park.

They were sniffing around the bumpiness of the tree trunks and wagging their tails, filled with happiness.

Fin looked up at the sky as some clouds covered the brightness of the sun.

"Hey, Lou," Fin grinned cheekily, "Did you know that darkness in the sky means a monster is going to appear?"

Fluency Passage

It was a sunny day, so Lou and his best friend Fin went to play at the park. They were sniffing around the bumpiness of the tree trunks and wagging their tails, filled with happiness. Fin looked up at the sky as some clouds covered the brightness of the sun.

"Hey, Lou," Fin grinned cheekily, "Did you know that darkness in the sky means a monster is going to appear?"

Lou's ears pricked up, suddenly worried. "What kind of monster?"

Fin looked around the park and noticed something moving in the bushes. "Well, the loudness of this monster will hurt your ears. And it is best known for its greediness."

Lou started shaking. "I don't like the sound of this!" He looked up at the sky and hoped the lightness of the sun would come back. "What should we do?"

"You can only defeat this monster with boldness and bravery. Here it comes!" Fin bounced over to the bushes. Lou followed, his nervousness slowing him down.

The bushes shook, and the branches parted. The monster appeared! But it was just a little lamb! Its cuteness made Lou laugh.

"Can I play with the two of you two?" The lamb asked with kindness.

"Of course, little lamb!" Fin smiled without bitterness. "You can join in the silliness of our games."

Lou and Fin had fun playing a game of hide and seek with the little lamb, enjoying the messiness of hiding in the bushes and the calmness of being at the park.

Fin stepped forward with boldness and bravery. Here it came! Lou followed, his nervousness growing.
