The collage displays various educational resources for the 'Multistage K-2 Unit 6 Term 2A' theme, which focuses on ants. At the top, a banner features the 'oceanview Resources' logo and the title 'MULTISTAGE K-2 UNIT 6 TERM 2A'. Below this, several lesson slides are visible:

- Lesson 7-6: A slide with a cartoon ant holding a torch, with a speech bubble saying, 'I am bringing a torch. It will help me see at night.'
- Lesson 8-12: A slide titled 'Punctuation Playground' with a cartoon illustration of children and a sign that says 'Punctuation Playground'. Below the illustration, it states: 'Punctuation is important because meaning is lost, sentences do not make sense, readers will not know to take a breath and cannot recognise when characters are speaking without correct it.'
- Lesson 9-2: A slide titled 'Ant habitats' with text about ant habitats and a small cartoon ant character. The text includes: 'Ants are found almost everywhere on the planet. They mostly live in nests that are made from soil, sand, wood and leaves. Some ants build anthills. Anthills are made from the dirt that ants have dug underneath the ground for their nest. An ant's nest has many tunnels. These tunnels link to chambers or rooms where the ants live. Different species of ants dig chambers and passages in the ground. Others locate their nests under rocks, in trees, or in logs. The nests may be built of paper, twigs, sand, gravel, or other materials. Ants like warmth and when it is sunny, they will swarm out of their nests into the sunshine. In winter when it is cold, some ants huddle together in tight bunches, others lie under plant roots or in shallow nests underground.'
- Lesson 9-3: A slide titled 'Task' with bullet points: 'You will be creating your own fact file about ants. Think about the context and purpose of this text. The purpose this writing is to teach another class about ants. For example, another class, as an assembly item, or in a digital application to be shared with family members.'
- Lesson 7-4/5: A slide with a cartoon ant character and a speech bubble saying, 'Let's share our ideas and act them out.'

In the center of the collage is a book cover for 'THE MARCH OF THE ANTS' by Ursula Dubosarsky & Toby Riddle, featuring a cartoon illustration of ants marching. At the bottom left, there is a worksheet titled '3-2-1 Things I learned about ants' with a grid for students to write down what they learned.

Lesson 8-3/4

Choose a character from a narrative text that you like.

Draw a picture and write a simple sentence describing the feelings of that character for example, 'The rainbow fish was sad.'

Using a range of narrative texts, support students to discuss and identify ways authors have shown the feelings and personalities of the characters.

Lesson 5-1 Teacher Instructions- Play a Game

Play a game such as 'throw the toy'.

Gently throw a soft toy into different positions and have students verbalise the position.

For example, the teddy is at the door, the teddy is in the box, the teddy is on the table.

Note: A preposition is a word that begins an adverbial phrase or an adjectival phrase to indicate a circumstance such as time, place, manner or causality, for example, in, on, after, before, by, under, over, of. A prepositional phrase consists of a preposition followed by a noun or pronoun, for example, in 'the teddy has landed under the table' - 'under the table' is the prepositional phrase.

Lesson 9-4

There are a lot of ants in the world.

They live in all countries except for in Antarctica.

Ants don't have ears, and some of them don't have eyes.

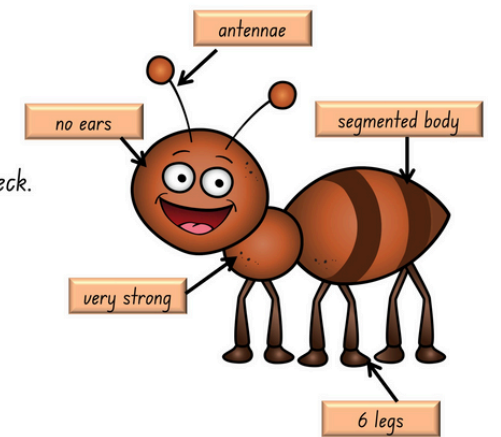

Ants are very strong. They can carry heavy things on their neck.

Ants hibernate under the ground during winter.

Ants walk in lines along the ground.

This is because they can smell each other.

Ants march during the day.

Some ants live in colonies under the ground, while others live in mounds above the ground.

Ants walk in lines along the ground.

Model writing a short text that includes prepositional phrases of time and place. Highlight or underline the prepositional phrases.

For example, Using The March of the Ants

phrases of time and place about activities the ants do.

Students underline the prepositional phrases in the text.

This was a great resource. My students loved doing the activities and I found it very helpful!

Thank you so much. This made my job really easy. My students were so engaged and they did well in their writing.

Anything from Oceanview Resources is a must. Resources are to the highest quality and extremely engaging. I highly recommend!

I am bringing a torch.
It will help me see at night.
